The image shows a standard Snellen eye chart with 11 rows of letters. A red arrow points to the top row. A red circle highlights the letter 'L' in the fourth row. A red circle highlights the '20/70' value in the fourth row. A red circle highlights the '20/20' value in the eighth row. A red circle highlights the entire eighth row of letters. A green horizontal bar is under the seventh row, and a red horizontal bar is under the eighth row. Two yellow-to-red gradient arrows point from the text on the left to the fourth and eighth rows.
